Germans Reach Outer Defenses Of Sevastopol, British Also Report

LONDON, Nov. 6.—British military authorities declared today that the Moscow front has been "stabilized" despite repeated Nazi onslaughts, but that the Germans have reached the outer defenses of Sevastopol, great Russian naval base on the Crimean Black Sea coast.

Authorities quoted latest reports from Russia today and the report of a British officer who arrived from the Crimea, where he was an observer less than a month ago, as stating that the weather has proved Russia's biggest aid in stopping the German drive on the central (Moscow) front.

Russians Holding Line

On this defensive arc, London quarters said, the Russians now are "definitely" holding their lines and at the same time are counter-attacking repeatedly and in strength around Kalinin, northwest of Moscow.

Authorities said they expected Sevastopol to become a "bigger and better Tobruk."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This was a reference to the situation at the Libyan Port of Tobruk, which has been held for months by British forces despite the fact it is surrounded.)

In a letter received this week, by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paluszak, of North Jefferson street, from their son, Corporal Joseph Paluszak, of the U. S. Marines, attached to the U. S. Airplane Carrier "Wasp," he stated that he had met a young man from New Castle, named Wilton "Bud" Taylor, whose ship, the U. S. Destroyer Reuben James, was in the same port in Maine, as his ship was. He also said that he and Taylor were out together, the evening before the Reuben James sailed to join the convoy of ships leaving for Iceland. During this trip, the Reuben James was torpedoed, and sunk.

New Castle Fire Department's Rescue Corps was kept busy early Wednesday afternoon, when they received two calls in rapid succession for their ambulance. One came from Court street and the other from Kurtz street, and for a time, it was thought there might have been some confusion as the addresses, and both were for the same call.

TOKYO, Nov. 6.—A Japanese liner with 510 persons aboard hit a drifting Soviet mine and sank in the sea of Japan last night, Tokyo authorities announced today, raising a serious new issue between Japan and Russia amid Nippon's redoubled efforts to maintain peace with the United States.

The Japanese board of information said the 4,522-ton passenger steamer Keki Maru struck the mine off the Korean coast and foundered within 30 minutes.

Seventeen Killed

Seventeen of the 510 persons aboard the ship were declared to have been killed, nine more were reported seriously injured by the blast, which caused the ship to sink in 30 minutes.

Loss of the vessel raised a serious new issue between Japan and Russia amid the redoubled efforts of the Tokyo government to maintain peace with the United States.

The new protest over the loss of the ship was believed to have been couched in extremely strong terms.

Litvinoff Will Be Sent To U. S.

Former Soviet Foreign Minister Named Ambassador To United States

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Word was received in official quarters in Washington today that Maxim Litvinoff, former Soviet foreign minister, has been appointed ambassador to the United States.

Litvinoff will replace Constantine A. Oumansky, who has been Soviet ambassador to Washington since June 6, 1939. Oumansky is now in Moscow, where he went to participate in the recent Anglo-Russian conferences.

Litvinoff, who is considered one of Russia's shrewdest diplomats, came to this country in 1933 to negotiate with President Roosevelt the agreement which led to the American recognition of Soviet Russia. He is known as a strong advocate of collective security and a bitter foe of Nazi Germany.

As foreign minister of the Soviet regime, he sought to line up Russia on the side of Great Britain and France against Germany. He was dismissed from his post in May, 1939, and within three months Soviet Russia signed the non-aggression pact with Germany which is generally held to have paved the way for the outbreak of the European war. He is married to an English woman.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Official quarters in Washington today are not optimistic over the prospect of reaching an agreement with Japan on the basis of the new compromise offer which Saburo Kurosu, special Nippon envoy, is reported to be bringing to this country.

Having abandoned hope of reaching a general understanding with the United States in the Pacific, Japan is believed to be seeking a truce in the economic warfare that is now in full swing between the two countries.

As Kurosu journeyed to Washington it was disclosed that the Japanese minister to Canada, Seiji Yoshizawa, is also enroute to the American capital on orders from

Deep Criticism Of Commander At Lowry Field, Colo.

Assert Soldiers Ordered Not To Attend Services At Some Churches

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Congressional supporters and foes alike of the Roosevelt foreign policy today voiced sharp criticism of the commander at Lowry Field, near Denver, who has ordered soldiers not to attend churches where non-interventionist ideas are expressed.

At a press conference, Secretary of War Stimson was asked about the order—issued by Col. Early, E. W. Duncan—but declined to comment until he had received an official report on the matter.

Typical comment from Capitol Hill included:

Rep. Thomas (D) Tex., ranking Democrat on the House military affairs committee and consistent supporter of the foreign policy: "If that is true I regret deeply to hear it. While I am an interventionist, I think this is still a Democratic country and free speech, as long as it is not treasonable, should be maintained."

Rep. Hooley (D) Mass., another Roosevelt supporter: "That order is absolutely undemocratic, and if the report is true, the officer who invoked it should not be allowed to hold an important command. I do not believe we have to apply the same restrictions here as in the totalitarian countries."

Rep. Reed (R) N. Y., a non-interventionist leader: "It looks like the country is going totalitarian by segments. If that story is true, I wonder if it is promoting the four freedoms."

Report 35 Arrests Made In France

All classes are cooperating in the movement, it was said, with church dignitaries taking their turns at guard duty with payors, doctors and simple citizens.

Furthermore, this government resists oil shipments to Japan if Tokyo persists in its efforts to conquer China by force.

Report Germany's Huge Battleship Damaged In Raid

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A British radio broadcast today quoted reports from Stockholm as stating the 35,000-ton German Battleship Tirpitz was damaged yesterday during a Soviet air raid on the Baltic Port of Danzig. The broadcast was heard by NBC.

(A dispatch from London said the British radio had quoted a London Daily Telegraph dispatch from Stockholm reporting that Soviet planes heavily bombed the Tirpitz at Danzig on Monday night.

According to the Daily Telegraph the vessel was bombed after Russian reconnaissance planes reported it had arrived at Danzig from Kiel.)

The Tirpitz was completed in 1939. It is one of the huge German battleships of the Bismarck class.

The Bismarck itself was sunk by British naval air and sea force after it sent the huge British Battle Cruiser Hood to the bottom months ago.

Victory Meeting For Chest Friday

Friday morning's breakfast report meeting of the city's Community Chest workers, to be held at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. building, has been marked for a decisive victory.

Judge W. Walter Braham, campaign chairman, will preside at this final report session, and he has expressed confidence that the various division heads will turn in reports that will easily equal the set goal of $65,000, and will probably better that amount.

Expect Complete Reports

Although active solicitation in the annual drive was completed about a week ago, the workers have been engaged in certain clean-up work, necessary to bring the total from $62,444, the amount reported at the last meeting, to the goal figure of $65,000.

It is anticipated that at this meeting, all division heads will have completed reports to turn in, and from advance information from these chairmen, it is believed that the goal will be reached.

"The drive this year," Paul Dingledy of the Chest's campaign committee states, "will have been, the most successful conducted here in years inasmuch as it is the first Chest drive to go over the top for quite sometime."

There were no advance gifts solicited this year, another thing that speaks well for the earnest effort put forth by each and every worker in the drive.

Extent Of G. O. P. Gains In State Elections On Tuesday Is Growing

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—The extent of Republican victories in Tuesday's off-year election in Pennsylvania continued to grow today as late returns and possible ballot recounts gave indications of still further gains.

In the race for state supreme and superior courts, the only two statewide offices at stake in the election, the majority attained by Supreme Court Justice William M. Parker of Oil City, over his Democratic opponent, W. Russell Carr, of Union town, reached 208,258, while that of Superior Court Judge Charles E. Kenworthy, of Ardmore, rose to 133,000 over Michael A. Musmanno, of Pittsburgh.

The vote in 8,085 election precincts out of 8,140 in the state gave:

Parker 1,419,113 and Carr 1,210,855; Kenworthy 1,388,698 and Musmanno 1,255,138. The Allegheny County common pleas judge ran a much better race than his running mate from Fayette County. The Democratic candidates marked up a sizeable lead in the Democratic stronghold of Allegheny County and lost in Philadelphia by only 8,000 votes. The G. O. P. candidates ran up their lead in the strongly Republican rural counties.

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—Nazi Germany has lost the staggering total of 4,500,000 men in her desperate effort to batter down the staunch defenses of the Soviet Union, Premier Joseph Stalin said in a nation-wide broadcast today.

Speaking over the official government radio, which is still functioning despite the cabinet's departure to Kuibyshev, Stalin said that German losses in men killed, wounded and taken prisoner had already reached this total.

Stalin delivered his speech during ceremonies commemorating the 24th anniversary of the bolshevik "October revolution."

Stalin admitted that Russia herself had suffered losses that no other country could have endured, but added:

WERE VOLUNTEERS IN TECHNICAL WORK

Details Of Sinking Are Not Known — "Shoot On Sight" Order Stands

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—American loss of lives in the grim battle of the Atlantic today rose to at least 140 as 17 more United States citizens were reported missing.

The British press service announced in Washington that the 17 American and two Canadian volunteers for the British civilian technical corps were presumably lost in the submarine sinking of the British merchant ship carrying them to England.

Telegrams of condolence were sent to the next of kin of the missing indicating that hope for their rescue has been abandoned.

Part Of Convoy

While it was disclosed that the British ship was part of a convoy there were no details as to the date it was sunk or the area in which it went down.

It was understood, however, that the vessel lost carried only a small percentage of the total number of technical corps recruits travelling in the same convoy and that the remainder have all reached England.

British press service officials said that as far as could be ascertained the 19 volunteers, mostly experts in radio and related fields, are the first to have met harm in the hazardous Atlantic crossing of hundreds recruited since last June to help Britain's radiolocators and other technical devices.

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—With Congress in a bristling mood, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau today conferred with speaker of the House Rayburn and reportedly asked that the legislators be kept in session the remainder of the year to enact a gigantic new $6,000,000,000 tax bill.

With the capital stirred by rumors that treasury officials are discussing an "enforced savings" plan whereby tax payments would be deducted from pay envelopes by employers and turned over to the government, Morgenthau postponed a scheduled press conference to make a surprise visit to Rayburn's office.

Both Rayburn and Morgenthau declined to discuss their meeting, the speaker merely remarking that "nothing was settled."

HISTORIC STRUCTURES ENDANGERED BY FIRE

(International News Service)
ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 6.—Four persons were burned to death and twelve others received minor injuries as a general alarm fire swept through the Monticello hotel early today.

The bodies of J. J. Quinn, of Kingston, Pa., R. Niski, a Japanese chauffeur of New York City and D. L. Howland, a regular roomer at the hotel, were discovered on the top floor of the four-story brick building.

The fourth victim, identified as Howard Tabb, of Holdenville, Okla., died shortly after arrival at a hospital.

For more than an hour as eleven fire trucks fought the blaze, the fire threatened to spread to adjacent buildings, which included landmarks of the historic Virginia city.

A hotel clerk estimated there were between 35 and 40 guests registered in the hotel at the time of the alarm, but said most of the guests were transients. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

the Donetz basin on the southern front.

According to a Moscow radio broadcast, the 10th German tank division and the 66th and 69th motorized regiments were in full retreat on the Volokolamsk sector of the Moscow front.

This account said these Nazi units were "abandoning position after position."

A new Russian high command communiqué said fighting continued throughout the night on all fronts.

Heavy German Losses
Heavy German losses in men and material were announced in a supplementary bulletin, which said the air force on Tuesday destroyed 48 enemy tanks, 200 trucks loaded with infantry ammunition, 100 horse-drawn ammunition carts and other equipment and annihilated two battalions on the Moscow front.

A Russian tank unit killed 500 German soldiers and destroyed six tanks and many anti-tank guns, bulletins added, while an artillery unit annihilated 80 trucks filled with infantry and also two infantry battalions in two days of fighting.

Moscow's announcer termed the fighting before the beleaguered capital one of the greatest triumphs yet scored by Red army troops.

Penetrate German Lines
A military announcement said Soviet forces penetrated the German lines in the Volokolamsk sector to a depth of about four miles, capturing the villages of Mihalovo, Torno and Marino.

Enemy attempts to cross the Volga and Nara rivers were declared to have been repulsed.

The latest Nazi drive to be carried was the fifth concerted German effort to break through Moscow's outer rim of defenses.

On the Kalinin and Volokolamsk sectors, the Moscow radio said, huge numbers of German tanks were permitted to deploy for action, then "smashed to pieces" by Soviet artillery batteries.

In at least one sector of the Donetz basin, the radio said, German forces were retreating, leaving "heaps of dead" behind them.

Heavy Fighting In Crimea
Heavy fighting was reported in the Crimean peninsula, and there, it was conceded, the situation was dangerous, although Russian authorities declared the Nazi drive was losing some of its momentum.

Twenty-seven German planes were shot down near Moscow Wednesday, the Russian high command announced.

Vice Foreign Commissar S. A. Lozovsky said all German attacks west and northwest of Moscow had been checked.

Huge new German losses in both lives and material were announced.

The government, officials insist does not want war with Japan, and will not precipitate it. If Japan refrains from further aggressive action in the Pacific and resists German pressure to force her into war with the United States under the terms of the axis alliance, there will be no war.

EXTENT OF G.O.P. GAINS IN STATE ELECTIONS TUESDAY IS GROWING
Friday's official count by the board of elections. Meanwhile, all ballot boxes and voting machines were locked up.

In Pittsburgh, the state's second largest city, Harman Denny, Jr., Republican majority candidate, conceded defeat late in the afternoon. He telegraphed the successful Democratic candidate, incumbent Mayor Cornelius D. Scully. "My congratulations on your victory," Scully won by the narrow margin of 3,163 votes.

Shock To Democrats
The slimness of Scully's majority was not the only shock felt by the Democratic organization of National Committeemen David L. Lawrence, for Robert J. Corbett, Republican ex-congressman, continued to pile up a lead for Allegheny County sheriff which approached 50,000. Democratic candidates were also trailing in all but two contests for the eight common pleas posts at stake. Among the winning Republican candidates was Pennsylvania's only woman judge, Miss Sara M. Soffel.

Republican victories in other portions of the state were also pronounced. In the state's lone congressional election, Wilson D. Gillett, Republican state assemblyman from Towanda, defeated George O. Wagner, of Danville, Democratic Montour County district attorney, by 7,274 votes for the unexpired term of the late Albert G. O. Rutherford. The vote in the 15th district, comprising eight northeastern Pennsylvania counties, was: Gillette 30,075; Wagner 22,801.

The Republicans elected three Republican judges to the Dauphin County common pleas court, including Minority House Leader Robert E. Woodside, Jr., by majorities of 2½ to 1. The usual big Republican majorities were rung up in such G. O. P. strongholds as Delaware, Bucks, Chester and Montgomery counties.

The Democrats swept all but one office in Lackawanna County, but lost the Scranton city offices to the Republicans. In the Scranton mayoralty race, the G. O. P. salvaged only one office in the city and county. The Democrats also carried Adams County, which had gone Republican last year.

Lehigh County, which went Democratic last year returned to the Republican fold, but the Democrats managed to retain the office of city controller in Allentown. Berks County continued in the Democratic ranks.

The home county of Gov. Arthur H. James, Luzerne, returned to the Republicans (old also, from which it had strayed in last year's presidential election. The G. O. P. captured the probational, clerk of courts and county controller offices. Sole Democratic victor was Congressman J. Harold Flannery, who was elected to the common pleas court, thus causing another congressional vacancy.

Maybe the "good old days" were a myth, but nobody made a fortune selling headache powders.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

TOO MUCH HAZARD LEARNING.

One of the plagues which torture modern youth in high school and college is the long, long list of books he is supposed to read on each of several subjects.

If any college student were to read carefully, reflectively, thoughtfully all the books assigned for him to read in his several subjects, he wouldn't have any time for sleep or recreation. An occasional conscientious youth does try literally to read all of them and pays the price.

Brag of Skipping It

Some students don't read any of these supplementary assignments at all and brag about the fact that they don't, but pass the course anyway. Perhaps they read reviews of the books, listen carefully in the classroom, read their basic text well, attend cramming sessions, or are just lucky. A certain number of the class will read some of these assigned books by skimming hurriedly over them.

The whole procedure seems to result in a deal of intellectual dishonesty, of getting impressions without much mastery, of haphazard learning. To skim over a few books may be valuable, but the kind of skimming which the average student is induced to do is morally and intellectually harmful.

Of course, books in English courses, such as fiction, might be read with considerable speed. Even very rapid reading of a novel, if more than plot and sequence are desired, hardly can net much value.

Read Reflectively

Of books in most other subjects, solid books, as in history, sociology, general science, economics, philosophy, psychology, rapid reading is hardly possible. In such books many facts and ideas may be crowded into a single sentence or paragraph. Often, some of the supplementary books assigned to be read by the student are themselves text books.

To read the average text book one must read reflectively. Often the student must pause to find a familiar illustration from experience to clarify the meaning of a meaty statement. He often has to translate a sentence of the text into understandable language.

It may be said to say that the average student does not read the basic text book in any subject carefully. A good teacher helps him to do so. Why add to his shallow habits of learning by forcing him to spread his efforts to still wider fields?

I'm not arguing against hard work by students nor against their courses being enriched. But the usual sidesides of reading lists shot at students in high school and college hardly attain these ends. My guess is that the average reading list might well be cut down 75 or 80 per cent.

Solving Parent Problem

Q. What do teen age children most desire in their parents?
A. That these parents shall treat them as of the age at which they are.

NAVAL CENSORSHIP

THEORETICALLY, there is something to be said for Secretary of the Navy Knox's policy of suppressing news of any Nazi submarines sunk by American warships. The "war of nerves" was Hitler's own idea, and he has used it often, sometimes with prodigious success. The idea is to keep sinkings shrouded in mystery so that German crews who see their friends go out and never come back will be demoralized by uncertainty.

Great Britain has been using this strategy for a long time. Results of surface engagements are announced because they cannot be kept secret anyway, but little is said of the considerable toll taken of Nazi submarines.

But for the time being adoption of such a policy by the United States has only fragmentary value. The United States is not sinking enough subs to make Sphinx-like silence a very powerful weapon in the war of nerves. In the attack on the Greer, for instance, the commander does not know whether the depth bomb took effect. The Germans, it seems, have their own counter-weapon. It is known that a U-boat can eject an oil slick to make the enemy think the sub has been destroyed and stop further search.

If the time comes when clashes between Nazi submarines and the American patrol are frequent, the mystery angle may prove efficacious. At present its chief purpose seems to be to provide an outlet for Knox's yen for censorship of naval news.

NEW DRESS FOR LIBERTY

For fifty-five years the Statue of Liberty has gazed over the waters of New York Harbor, confident in the imperishable quality of her symbolism. Her thoughts about the changes in the France that sent her are heavy, but she does not despair. She is the embodiment of hope.

In deference to her monumental frame of mind, a new garb of brilliant lights will be placed on the Statue of Liberty soon. Spotlights will heighten her grandeur, and her lofty torch will burn more warmly. The 305 feet of stone and metal, from the base of the pedestal to the tip of her upturned arm, will gleam with a new animation.

The suitability of the more resplendent gown is unquestioned in this year of 1941. Its effect is not lost in a country where a figurative compliment to liberty is not an anachronism. May her light shine around the world, over all men.

MUSSOLINI COMES UP FOR AIR

Mussolini's somewhat ridiculous position in the great world of affairs was accentuated the other day when, in one of his now infrequent speeches, he cautioned his hearers against drawing "arbitrary conclusions" from his "long and sometimes necessary sentences."

The truth seems to be, of course, that the real boss of Italy is Adolf Hitler, that Mussolini's freedom of expression has been drastically limited and that he rarely has a chance to come up for air.

In his recent address he insisted that Italy had not abandoned its purpose of getting a territorial settlement from France after the war. He was referring, presumably, to Nice, Savoy, Tunis, Corsica and Djibuti, which were rallying cries in Italy long before Mussolini made the blunder of stumbling into the war in the mistaken belief that Britain was washed up and victory for the Berlin-Rome Axis was near.

But if the war-weary Italians count on Mussolini to make good on Nice, Savoy and the rest of the historic claims against France, they would do well not to reap their gains prematurely. There is as yet no assurance that Adolf will win the war for Benito. Even if the Axis won, the fact undoubtedly remains that Mussolini would have to be content with whatever plunder Hitler doled out to him—with a good, strong string attached.

ESCORT SHIPS TO FIGHT U-BOATS

The American people are sadly reminded by the long list of men lost on the Reuben James and by the torpedoing of the newer destroyer Kearny of the vulnerability of destroyers in submarine warfare.

These facts give particular point to the plan just announced at Washington to build 50 escort ships for the British in American Navy Yards. It is discouraging, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, that this may interfere to some extent with the work on warships for our own Navy. But the gain in the long run may be worth it.

Destroyers are too costly to be subjected to the extreme hazards of convoy work if a more suitable type of vessel can be created to take their place. It is even more important that they escape their large complements of men, who have little chance of escape if their vessel is struck. For in convoy work it is probable that they cannot always act with speed and precision in dealing with U-boats.

Designs of the escort ships are not, of course, made public. It is a reasonable assumption, however, that they will embody lessons the British have learned from months of the Battle of the Atlantic. Presumably they will require smaller crews than the destroyers, carry more powerful armament than the British and Canadian corvettes and offer smaller targets to submarine attack.

Aside from these considerations it is important to reserve destroyers, as far as conditions permit, for the vital tactical duties they are called upon to perform as part of the fighting fleets. For many reasons the new escort ship program appears to be highly desirable. We should be able to count upon the well-developed speed and efficiency of our Navy Yards to carry it out promptly.

Another word that deserves to be retired from circulation, having been worn to a frazzle by the radio boys, is "materiel."

What this richest country in the world needs is less talk about all sorts of shortages and a lot more attention to production of its many surpluses.

Guinea pigs are the latest thing to be made scarce by the defense program. Too much of a demand for trial-and-error methods in Washington, perhaps.

If Uncle Sam is serious about getting women volunteers to do certain types of work in the air force, he'd better get busy designing attractive uniforms.

British naval officers in the Mediterranean say that they have been sinking an Italian ship a day for two months. On the theory perhaps that a sinking a day keeps Mussolini away.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:53. Sun rises tomorrow 6:35.

It looks as if Hitler is either crazy or not afraid of anything in the world. Probably crazy.

The person who invented the automobile horn must have gotten the idea from a bull.

About the only thing a committee appointed to investigate an airplane crash discover is that the plane came down.

THAT'S WHY

Two negroes were boasting about the merits of their respective automobiles, both worn, shabby, old wrecks.

One of them said, "Dey's jus' one reason why Ah can't run dish cah o' mine 200 miles an houan."

"And what's dat reason?" asked the other.

"De distance is too long fo' de shortness of de time," said the first.

If you don't know what "priorities" mean, we will tell you, you can't get it.

May be in a hurry, but he never allows himself to be hurried.

May enjoy compliments, but he does not allow himself to be deflected from work.

May make enemies by accident, but he chooses friends with care.

PUBLICITY

The codfish lays a million eggs; The little hen but one.

But the codfish doesn't cackle To inform us what she's done; So we despise the codfish, and The little hen we prize.

Which indicates to thoughtful minds "It pays to advertise."

A government negotiator declares that some parts of automobiles may be made out of sweet potatoes some day. We never did care for sweet potatoes.

You're an awful flirt. Today I saw you with a woman I have never seen you with before.

"That must have been my wife!" One robin doesn't make a spring, but one lark is often responsible for a fall.

Every year is Leap Year for pedestrians.

SCHEMING DREAMING

Three men, an Englishman, an Irishman and a down-south darkey were stranded on a desert island with only one loaf of bread between them. They decided that the one who could tell the biggest yarn about their dream last night, could eat the entire loaf.

The next morning, the Englishman started his tale: "I dreamed that I was back in Buckingham Palace and seated on the throne with King George himself shining my shoes."

The Irishman, not to be outdone, continued, "Sure, it was myself that was carried to the pearly gates and what did I see but Napoleon pickin' his teeth with a crowbar."

The person who invented the automobile horn must have gotten the idea from a bull.

About the only thing a committee appointed to investigate an airplane crash discover is that the plane came down.

A political campaign is not improved any when smear is injected into it.

THE UNWELCOME VISITOR

I have an acquaintance (whom I do not know too well) who periodically and invariably at the wrong time telegraphs me that she is coming to pay me a visit. It is necessary that I put up with this inconvenience just to be polite? I really owe her nothing.

Answer: Since you owe her nothing and do not know why very well, there is no reason why you must put yourself to this inconvenience. Telegraph her that you are unable to entertain her during the period specified, making some excuse, true or false, such as a full house—that you will be out of town.

Any excuse you care to choose. Why should you go to this trouble and expense for a stranger who undoubtedly wishes to use your home as a hotel and save herself the expense usually involved for lodgings. Anyone so bold as to presume on your hospitality deserves a rebuff. So, do not hesitate to send your regrets.

Question: Are wedding gifts usually sent to a divorcee who remarries?—Janet.

Answer: Very close friends send presents to the widow or divorcee who remarries, but general acquaintances usually do not, unless they especially wish to do so. There is no obligation to do this at the second marriage, unless there is a reception to which you are invited.

Question: Is it ever permissible when introducing two persons to say: "Mrs. Jones meet Mrs. Smith."—M.L.

Answer: No. The accepted form is "Mrs. Jones," pause and then say "Mrs. Smith." Also, never say "I want you to make the acquaintance of Mrs. Smith," or "I want you to meet my friend, Mrs. Smith."

In calling Mrs. Smith your friend, you imply that Mrs. Jones is merely a stranger.

Question: I am going to buy new dining room furniture. Tell me what pieces I should have and whether suits are in good taste?—Bride.

Answer: Dining room furniture is usually sold in suites. If you know enough about furniture, you may select individual pieces, but they must be harmonious. They should include a table, of course, two arm chairs and four or six side chairs according to your needs, a sideboard, china closet and serving table.

Gribble &amp; Son, wholesalers, sold a bill of goods to J. B. West, a merchant at a small cross roads village. When the goods arrived at the station, Mr. West refused them. The wholesaler firm prepared to bring suit for collection and wrote to the railroad agent for information about the arrival of the goods, to the president of the bank for information concerning the financial credit of their customer, to the mayor of the town asking the name of a good lawyer to handle their case, and to Mr. West threatening suit if he did not make payment at once. Mr. West answered:

"I received the letter telling me I had better pay up. I am the railroad agent at the village and also received the letter you wrote to the agent. I am the president and sole owner of the local bank, and can assure you of my financial standing. As mayor of the city, I hesitate to refer you to a lawyer, since I am the only member of the bar in this vicinity. If I were not also pastor of the church here, I would tell you to go to h—l."

Hard To Cut Federal Expenditures
Special Committee Faces Difficulty
Tremendous Public Demand For Economy

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Congress' special committee to investigate federal expenditures has a hard job ahead of it. Its stunt is to determine what reductions can be made. Of course, all the cuts it recommends will be in non-defense items. That defense spending will bulge is a foregone conclusion.

That's why non-defense costs so urgently need to be drastically pared down in next year's budget, to be submitted to the legislators in January. Otherwise it's foreseen that the taxpayers' backs will break.

That there's a tremendous public demand for economy there's no question.

The difficulty is that each group of beneficiaries of their particular taxation item wants reductions made at all the other groups' expense, but not at their own. Contrarywise most of 'em want, for their own especial selves, increases.

The committee's problem is to hit on a plan for granting larger individual allowances all around, at the same time trimming down the total. It's headed by Senator Harry Byrd.

Naturally included in the body of a dozen investigators are Chairman Walter F. George and Robert L. Doughton, respectively of the Senate finance and representatives' ways and means committees. A few Republicans are in the bunch, too. Among them Representative Allen T. Treadwell, who was ways and means chairman when the G. O. P. was in power. Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau and Budget Director Harold D. Smith are on the list also, but they're ex-officio. It's essentially a congressional committee. Morgenthau and Smith are needed, though, as advisers.

The pair last referred to aren't on such a hot spot. As appointed executives they can advise as they like, and to heck with the voters. The senators and representatives, however, with future election days to think about, are starting in on a dozen bad headaches.

Morgenthau Says Billion

Secretary Morgenthau already has declared for at least $1,000,000,000 cut. That much is "safe," he says. The budget bureau submitted to schedule showing how $2-

It seems only a few weeks ago that we were knee-deep in tears for Finland. Wendell Willkie was hailing Bert Wheeler as a "distinguished statesman" and pork was a surplus commodity.

Now that we have revised our files, the underdog is a wolf and the Russian bear is a cuddly thing with big brown eyes.

We are a peculiar people. We are invincible largely because we are incredible.

When we want an army we put numbers in a goldfish bowl. When we want a navy we dip into Henry Morgenthau's hat and pull out the coast guard.

We are even staging our own air raids and blackouts and scaring us.

A few more transactions like the transfer of the coast guard from the treasury to the navy and we will be able to lick anybody who uses the single entry system of bookkeeping.

Thought for the day: We ain't mad at nobody—nearly.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Former President Herbert Hoover takes note of the U. S. efforts to check Finland, and raises the question:

"Has America lost all sense of human and moral proportions?"

HYDE PARK—President Roosevelt points out that it is not enough that the navy and army are daily growing stronger:

"Each and every citizen, as a civilian, must do his share for defense."

"At last, some of us have been jarred loose from the complacent belief that we have no basic underlying conflict with Nazism."

Diplomatic Relations

WASHINGTON, November 6.—THERE seems slight doubt about the passage of the Neutrality Act, it should go through the Senate by a safe margin and the amended bill promptly be concurred in by the House. That is the expectation of the Administration strategists.

The forecast is that the Roosevelt request will be granted within another ten days. It is further held that the President just as easily could have the act wholly repealed had he the boldness and frankness to ask for what he wanted.

THE reasons the opposition has become futile are two—first, there is the fact that to suggest that we are any longer in any way neutral is to be ridiculous; second, that retention of a law which obviously tends to weaken our foreign policy, the purpose of which is to defeat Hitler, is idiotic. The isolationists not only admit but charge and will complete justice—that we have abandoned even the pretense of neutrality. No one thinks of denying it. Under the circumstances, to continue shackling ourselves with even an emasculated neutrality act does not make sense. So clear is this that had there been no Greer, Kearny and Reuben James incidents, still Congress could hardly reject the President's request. If there were no other reason, it must be granted because of the comfort to the enemy refusal would afford.

BUT after the revision, which, though less honest, is clearly to reveal what next? Equivalently, the next step is the severance of diplomatic relations. With the Germans sinking our warships, with our navy under orders to shoot on sight, with the President denouncing Hitler, insisting that our national interests require his extermination, declaring that the "rattlesnakes of the Atlantic" must be destroyed, and proclaiming Russia as well as England our ally—with these things all being openly said and done, the continuance of diplomatic relations seems an absurdity.

IT becomes more than when it is realized that the present diplomatic status is an advantage to us. The facts are these: It was in 1938 that the President brought back home our Ambassador, Mr. Hugh Wilson, and the Germans recalled their Ambassador. It was a mistake for us to do that. Because in Mr. Wilson we had one of the ablest and best-equipped diplomats in the service, who in the days that followed would have been of great use to the country.

By recalling him we purpose (Continued From Page Twelve)

For Funeral Of Slippery Rock President

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools of this city, and president of the Board of Trustees of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College left for Johnstown, Pa., early today to attend the funeral of Dr. D. D. McMaster, president of Slippery Rock.

Services were held this afternoon in the Pickens funeral home in Johnstown, Pa., where Dr. McMaster was a schoolman for over thirty years. Rev. A. S. Flaming, pastor of the United Presbyterian church officiated. A special delegation of faculty members, students and trustees from the college attended.

During the funeral services at Johnstown, a quiet hour was observed on the college campus in Slippery Rock, all classes in the college being excused between 2 and 4 o'clock.

This morning a special service was held in the college chapel, honoring the memory of the late president. Until an acting president head of the college is appointed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas, Dr. Eitz, dean of men in Slippery Rock, will act as the administrative head of the school according to Dr. Green.

WEAK ANKLES

Mothers have asked us time and again the meaning of pronation, its cure, and its prevention. Pronation is a rolling or tipping inward of the ankle joint. This is caused by weak arches which do not receive proper support. It is easy to recognize; when the heels are worn down on the inside, pronation is usually the cause. Poor posture is also usually due to pronation. Proper shoes can correct and prevent pronation!

Labor Office Delegates Will Hear President

Address To Be Made At White House During Afternoon, It Is Announced

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt will deliver an "important address" to approximately 250 delegates of the international labor office assembled in the White House east room.

White House Secretary William D. Hassett said that the chief executive will speak for approximately 20 minutes beginning at 3 p. m. E. S. T., and the talk will be of sufficient importance to be broadcast.

While Hassett declined further information, the session of the ILO delegates, who have been meeting in New York, provides Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity for a redefinition of America's foreign policy and a warning that labor disputes tying up the huge rearmament program be halted.

The labor office has nearly 50 different world members. The axis tripartite of Germany, Italy and Japan discontinued their membership in the organization several years ago.

Mr. Roosevelt may also repeat to the delegates his week-end Hyde Park statement that Americans must be prepared to work longer hours for success of the production drive.

The president told a recent press conference that he is considering some form of legislation to curb strikes in the defense industries. There has been a strong demand in congress for such legislation.

Among those attending the labor session will be C. R. Attlee, lord privy seal and deputy prime minister of Great Britain; Arthur Jenkins, parliamentary private secretary; John Roberts and Roger Makins of the foreign office.

Autopsy Shows Wanda May Wheatley, 20, Had Been Criminally Attacked

(International News Service)
SAGINAW, Mich., Nov. 6.—An inquest was opened today by a coroner's jury into the death of 20-year-old Wanda May Wheatley whose battered body was found in a woods near Bridgeport.

The first witness to be heard was Dr. Oliver W. Lohr whose autopsy disclosed the girl had been criminally assaulted and then her skull fractured by a beating.

An intensive search, meanwhile, was launched for the driver of a maroon-colored automobile. Police learned the driver of such a car had attempted to molest the girl previous to her disappearance Monday night. Wanda May worked in a telegraph agency and according to her friends did not have "dates."

Sheriff Hugo Muehlenbeck said he believed the girl had been forced into a car and clubbed when she attempted to escape. He said footprints indicated a struggle also in the bloodsoaked sand of the isolated spot where her body was found. There were scratches on her legs and her clothes were torn.

An eye glass lens found near the body was identified as belonging to Miss Wheatley.

Billion Dollar Measure Ready

So-Called "Pork-Barrell" Bill To Be Reported To House Soon

ANOTHER PROJECT IS BEING ADDED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Rep Mansfield (D) Texas, today said that the long-awaited $1,000,000,000 rivers and harbors omnibus bill roundly assailed as a "log-rolling" proposition, probably will be reported to the house either tomorrow or Monday.

The Texan, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, called the group into session today to complete consideration of the last major project suggested for inclusion in the huge measure—the Alabama-Coosa river navigation, flood-control and hydro-electric project.

Committee members are expected to vote approval of the proposal for which $60,000,000 is sought as a starter—after hearing the Alabama and Georgia congressional delegations support the project to alleviate the southeast power shortage.

Inclusion of the Alabama-Coosa development in the bill will boost the total number of proposed projects to nearly 235, including the $400,000,000 St. Lawrence waterway and the Florida ship canal.

The omnibus measure faces stiff opposition on the house floor, despite the fact that it merely authorizes the proposed projects and does not provide appropriations.

Pork-Barrell Measure
Recalling that the bill has often been condemned "by the enemies of cheaper navigation and public power as a pork-barrel measure and a waste of public funds," Rep. Pittenger (R) of Minn., said he would insist that provisions of the bill are made clear.

"I want it understood that this is merely an authorization measure," Pittenger said. "The president, budget director, house appropriations committee and the board of engineers will have to be consulted before any construction is begun. Funds will have to be appropriated for each of the projects."

Other committee members voiced approval for the omnibus measure with Rep. Rankin (D) of Miss. describing it as "a lend-lease bill for the American people."

His sentiments were echoed by Pittenger who observed that the government proposes to build "300,000,000 worth of gunboats for Britain, which I am in sympathy with, but we ought to be doing something in the line of improving domestic economy."

Appearing before the house committee in support of the Alabama-Coosa proposal, Sen. Hill (D) of Ala., Democratic whip, urged that the bill be reported out and passed by the house and pledged support for it in the senate.

LONDONERS BID FOR CATS AND DOGS AS PETS

(International News Service)
LONDON.—It has taken a war to force home on Londoners that it is very nice to have a cat or dog around the house.

Despite food rationing difficulties, dogs and cats are being enthusiastically bought up. Britain's kennels and pet stores are unable to cope with the ever-increasing demand.

At the outbreak of the widespread air raids, dog and cat owners, afraid of their animals being injured, rushed to have them destroyed.

Then with food rationing increasing, they once more hurried to get them.

It was found, however, that only the rich, who were used to feeding their pets with expensive meats and tit-bits, found it difficult to keep them.

The poor people, who have always fed their household pets on scraps from the table, had no difficulty.

Warns Against Late Wheat Smut

Delay In Fall Planting Is Apt To Result In Disease Laden Crop

(International News Service) STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 5.—The delay in the planting of wheat brought about by dry weather has increased the danger of disease, according to a report of a plant specialist at the Pennsylvania State college.

"Smutting smut of wheat is usually more destructive when wheat is planted late and soil temperatures are much cooler," Robert S. Kirby, plant pathologist, reported.

"Under the circumstances, growers should clean the wheat thoroughly and treat it with organic mercury or copper carbonate dust if smut is present," Kirby advised. Studies show that the growth of smut spores increases in damp soil as the temperature drops from 68 to 41 degrees Fahrenheit.

Hundreds Of Juncos Arrive In Vicinity

During the past week, hundreds of juncos have made their appearance in this vicinity. These birds are migratory, and travel with the cold weather, and are truly birds of the snow, says Owen Fox, city forester.

Those persons who travel through the woods and fields, when the deep snows are on the ground, will notice many birds flying a short distance ahead. These are juncos, the bird with a steel gray back, rounded white breast, and having two white feathers that show up on each side of the tail, when in flight. Mr. Fox says that juncos like the open fields, where the wild grasses grow, and only when heavy snows cover the wild seeds, making it impossible for them to feed, will we find them in our back yards with the other birds, seeking to get "a handout."

These birds are about the size of sparrows, and travel in flocks. They are among the most refined of our winter birds, and he says no evil should be spoken of them.

The nature lover who travels the winter woods, gets much enjoyment watching the juncos, and listening to their pleasing twittering call, as it is only during the winter months they favor us with their presence for when the warm days arrive they are gone.

Stalin Urges
Rear Attack
Upon Germans

Expeditionary Force In Europe
Is Asked By Russian
Premier

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—With a plea for a new expeditionary force on the European continent to harass Germany, Premier Josef Stalin today summed up four months of war with the Nazis, estimating German losses at 4,500,000 men.

Absence of a second front and lack of tanks both contribute to the "ill success" of the Russian armies, Stalin said, but he placed Russian casualties at less than a million in contrast to the staggering German total.

Stalin did not specifically name a new B. E. F. as his chief desire, but deliberately emphasized the difficulties Russia is facing by fighting Germany on a tremendous front with no one to attack the Reich from the rear.

War Deliveries
Are Speeded Up
Stimson Claims

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Secretary of War Stimson made public today figures showing that deliveries of fighting equipment and ammunition to the army by the ordnance department has increased 80 fold over the rate of deliveries at the time Hitler invaded France.

In May, 1940, the army was receiving deliveries of about $1,000,000 worth of equipment per month Stimson said, indicating supplies worth $80,000,000 are being delivered now every 30 days.

The figures announced today represent total production of the ordnance department, and include some deliveries made under the lend-lease act.

The figures were based on a report by Maj.-Gen. Charles W. Weston, chief of ordnance. The report predicted that by June, 1942, the rate of deliveries to the army would be increased 360 times over that of May, 1940.

Zehner Company
Insulation Leader
Named Representative Of
Johns-Manville Home Insulation In Local District

On November 1, the Valley Insulation Company, operated by the W. F. Zehner Company, 121-122 West South street, this city, was appointed representative of Johns-Manville home insulation, for New Castle and surrounding territory.

In 1930, the W. F. Zehner Company became one of the pioneers of home insulation in this district and surrounding communities, and also one of the first companies of this kind in this state. Since that time they have grown to be one of the largest and best equipped concerns for home insulation, in western Pennsylvania.

Since 1930, this company has "blown" comfort and savings into hundreds of homes in this city, and the large district that surrounds it. Insulation has not only given so much added comfort to homes, more than was ever dreamed of, but it has also saved many hours of labor and drudgery in the heating of the home, and brought substantial savings in the fuel upkeep.

Today the Zehner Company is one of the best trained and equipped insulating concerns in western Pennsylvania, their crews of workmen being all skillfully trained in the proper, and most modern methods of installing insulation.

The Zehner Company's equipment, among other things, include the most up to date tools for opening the sides and roofs of houses for the operation of insulation.

Urges Navy Accept
Cotton Bowl Game

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Sen. Connally (D) Tex., today strongly urged the navy eleven to tackle the University of Texas in the Dallas Cotton Bowl game.

In a telegram to Rear Admiral Russell Wilson, superintendent of the naval academy, Connally declared that "this game would not only be of great value to the navy, but would be a merited tribute to the navy, and its heroic personnel."

"The people of Texas and the entire congressional delegation will be most happy if the navy team could play at the great Cotton Bowl at Dallas," the Texas senator asserted.

French Newspaper Man Is Sentenced 10-Years At Labor

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Nov. 6.—Maurice Negre, Bucharest correspondent of the Havas (Vichy French) news agency, today was sentenced to ten years at hard labor after conviction by a Rumanian court martial of "free French" activities in Rumania.

It was learned here today.

Negre, who is a French subject, was first sentenced to death. He must serve his term in the dread Carpathian salt mines. His sentence was commuted after intervention by the French legation, it was announced.

Rumanian authorities also announced that in the future ten Jewish labor service men will be executed each time a Jew refuses to join labor service squads.

A number of Rumanian Jews have been hiding when called for service because many of their number never returned from labor camps once called.

The authorities now consider all service men as hostages and thus hope to compel all Jews to join labor squads.

Taft Predicts
Army IncreaseAsserts Repeal Of Neutrality Shipping Bill Would Increase ArmyTHREE MILLION
QUOTA IS SEENBy WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—With senate leaders seeking to curtail debate and pass the bill repealing shipping restrictions in the neutrality act, Sen. Taft (R) Ohio today predicted that an early result of its passage would be expansion of the army to 3,000,000 men.

"We have about 1,500,000 men in the army now," said Taft. "If this bill passes I feel certain that they will begin to build it to 3,000,000 men. The size of the army is limited only by appropriations."

Hope of senate leaders of reaching a final vote on the bill today was blasted as the battle grew in intensity and fresh demands came from senators for time in which to debate the measure.

Sen. Chandler (D) Ky., an administration leader, said that the bill may be projected into next week, although Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., opposition leader, said a vote should be reached Friday.

To persistent charges of foes of repeal of combat zone provisions of the neutrality act that passage of the bill means certain war aroused administration defenders, who had refrained from speaking in an effort to speed the vote.

Wheeler, who failed to complete his speech after occupying the senate floor for almost five hours yesterday, was to resume his assault on the administration's foreign policy today.

Sens. Austin (R) Vt., and Hill (D) Ala., supporting the bill, were scheduled to appeal for votes, while Sens. Brewster (R) Me., Danaher (R) Conn., and McGarran (D) Nev. also were possible speakers.

While Democratic Whip Hill declared that "we will have a minimum of 52 votes for the bill," Sen. La Follette (P) Wis., declared that there are enough doubtful senators to defeat Mr. Roosevelt's request to remove the ban on sending ships to belligerent nations.

"This fight can go either way," said La Follette. "It is not settled."

Taft conceded "probable victory" for the administration, but said the fight would continue until the last.

Former Resident
Dies In Columbus

Mrs. Rose Eberle, North Shenango street, has received word of the death of her cousin, Miss Mary C. Kelley of Columbus, O., who died following an operation last Friday.

Miss Kelley, who had lived almost all her life on the west side of the city, had been making her home in Columbus with her nephew, E. W. Jones, and her sister, Mrs. W. B. Jones. Services were held Monday with interment in St. Joseph's cemetery, Columbus.

She leaves a nephew, Edward Kelley of 940 Morton street, in this city, also.

Elected Alderman
In Sixth Ward

In the election of Tuesday, Margaret Orves, well known resident of the Sixth ward was elected alderman. The new alderman had no difficulty, holding the nomination of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Another explanation of lost letters is that some people use washable ink and somebody else mails a bottle of liquid medicine.

AROUND
CITY HALL

State director of new federal public works, Kaye Hunter, has completed Altoona as the first city in the state to file projects for post-war work on behalf of the unemployed with his organization.

A businessman stepped to the police sergeant's office to pay a fine for parking. "I suppose this will go toward paying for the new traffic lights," he asserted. So far the city has made no move toward obeying the state law to change from overhead to corner lights. There is a possibility the city may inform the state highway department that the state can put up the lights if they want them on state highways here.

It is likely that when the council organizes on the first Monday in January, James Gibson will take over the reins in the street department. Joe Alexander, re-elected for the third time, has been in charge of public property, grounds, and acted as purchasing agent since he assumed office. The only outgoing member will be William H. Dunlap, present streets commissioner.

City police reported today Lester McClelland, assistant to Juvenile Officer J. M. Dunlap today would return from Freedom, three youth who were detained there last night and who live here. They are William Hetrick, Long avenue, Joe Kostal, Savannah road vicinity and David Hassen, Scioto street.

Reunion Held For Ordinandi ClassOrdinandi Class Of 1936 Observes Anniversary With Solemn Mass And Dinner Event

A solemn high mass was celebrated Wednesday morning, at 11 o'clock in St. Michael's church, honoring the class reunion of the Ordinandi of 1936, from St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe, Pa.

The Rev. Fr. William M. Pisarik, pastor of St. Michael's church, observing his fifth year as an ordained priest, and assisting him at the fifth anniversary mass were the following classmates:

The Rev. Fr. Robert Hanicak, pastor of St. Martha's church, Leechburg, was the celebrant; Rev. Fr. Ignatius Koller, of St. Ann's church, Hazlet, was the reader; Rev. Fr. Aloysius Malin, of St. Mary and Ann church, Marianna, Pa., was the sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. William M. Pisarik, was the master of ceremonies.

Following mass a reception was held at the rectory, and at noon a delicious dinner was served to the guests numbering approximately 15. An informal time was enjoyed during the afternoon, and at 6 o'clock a reunion supper was enjoyed at The Castleton.

This is the first reunion of the class ordained in 1936 at St. Vincent's Seminary, a class numbering to 28 priests. Fifteen were present at this reunion, and it is expected to make the event an annual reunion, to be held hereafter in September of each year.

Quake Shocks Are Recorded

About 9,000 Miles From
New York Is Location
Of Earthquake

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A series of earthquakes, beginning just before one o'clock (EST) yesterday afternoon and continuing through the early hours this morning, was recorded today on the Fordham University seismograph.

One of the quakes, the first "would have been quite destructive if it had occurred on land," university officials said.

The first quake occurred at 12:52 p. m., yesterday, about 9,000 miles distant from New York in a direction not indicated. At 2 a. m., today there was a mild repetition of this tremor.

Again, at 7:39 o'clock this morning, there was another shock, and eight minutes later still another at a point about 6200 miles distant from New York, likewise with no direction indicated. These two latter tremors were said to have been not as severe as the first shock yesterday.

America Faces Acute Problem In Care Of Aged

Declining Birthrate Results
In Constant Increase Of Aged Persons

RATE OF GROWTH
SHOWS BIG DROP

By PETER MARGOLIES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The problem of caring for America's aged people will be more acute during the coming decade than ever before, if census reports of America's declining birth rate are an indication.

In its review of major trends revealed by the decennial census, the department of commerce reports that, despite a rise in population, the drop in the birth rate has resulted in a constant increase in the average age of American people—a smaller proportion of young people and a larger proportion of older people.

Other important trends indicated by census figures are:

The present rate of population growth in the United States is less than half that of any previous decade, and within 30 or 40 years America will be faced with a declining population.

Immigration from foreign countries is no longer a factor in United States population.

Large cities are growing very slowly, and in some cases are declining in population. In the 92 cities of more than 100,000 population the increase was only 4.5 per cent in the decade just ended, as compared with a 23.5 increase in the preceding decade, and a 21.4 per cent rise in the decade ended 1920.

The composition of large cities is changing due to improved transportation, extension of utilities, taxes and better rural living conditions which have drawn people beyond the corporate limits of cities.

American families are getting smaller, now averaging 3.8 persons per family, as compared with 4.1 in 1930. Increase in number of families, however, was proportionally greater than the increase in population.

Mechanization of farm equipment resulted in fewer but larger farms. A great increase in population occurred in the southwest where a high birth rate was recorded. Decreased pressure from industrial areas drawing workers from this section also contributed to the increase. The rise in northern industrial population, on the other hand, was far below the national average.

Biggest Increase in West

Largest percentage of population increase in any geographical area was recorded in the far west, revealing that the American people are still moving westward.

Ten states, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania, lost seats in the new congress on the basis of 1940 figures. Eight states gained seats. They are: Arizona, Florida, Michigan, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon, Tennessee and California, the last named gaining three.

Total value of factory products is not keeping pace with population growth, due probably to decreasing price levels. Total number of factory workers in 1939 was less than in 1937, due to increased productive capacity per man.

Retail stores increased in number to 1,770,904 in 1940. This rise, however, was relatively greater than the increase in gross sales.

Total value of manufactured goods decreased from $60,713,000,000 to $56,828,000,000 in the period from 1937 to 1939. At the same time the number of factories increased from 166,794 to 184,244.

The Great Game Of Politics

was served save to transfer American affairs to a charge who, no matter how good, had no comparable standing, weight or sources of information.

SOME months ago, after it had been revealed that the German consulates here were being used to cloak a horde of political and propaganda agents, the President, prodded by the State Department and the FBI, closed them up. The Germans retaliated with similar action. This, however, did not affect the German Embassy in Washington, nor the American Embassy in Berlin. Each country maintained the pretense of friendly relations by a continuance of diplomatic representation in the other's capital. The difference is that the German staff in Washington is larger than the American staff in Berlin. There is the further difference that in Berlin the American representatives indulged in no espionage or propaganda activities at all. On the other hand, while the German Embassy in Washington keeps its skirts clear on the surface, there is a strong suspicion that to it cluster agents whose work is similar to that of the German consuls whom we sent home.

IT also seems clear that unless Dr. Thomsen, the German charge here, were a devoted and trusted adherent of Hitler, as well as a very able representative of the Nazi party, he would not have been allowed to stay all this time in a post where it is more important that he be a trusted and efficient man than any other. American diplomats abroad never engage in espionage or propaganda activities, but such activities are an inseparable and important part of every German mission everywhere in the world.

While the State Department asserts it has no reason to believe that such activities are now being cloaked by the German Embassy, there certainly is no reason to believe they are not. Considering our hostile intentions toward Hitler, it is clear that the Germans derive a benefit from the present status, if only because information is so much more accessible here for them than it is there for us.

THE department's excuse that there are still Americans and American interests in Germany which must be looked out for hardly holds water. The fact is that the few Americans left in Germany, outside of the diplomats and correspondents, are those who do not want to come out. Our interests, such as they are, could be turned over, as in the last war, to Switzerland, and what we chiefly are doing in Berlin now is to look after British interests and prisoners of war. What little we can do for these does not seem worth the advantage which accrues to Hitler from the large staff he maintains in Washington.

NOR is there much weight in the argument that a complete severance of diplomatic relations would make inevitable a declaration of war. That by no means follows. Actually, such severance would bring us no closer to a war declaration than the repeal of the Neutrality Act. Diplomatic relations always can be resumed at any time. Thus discontinuance now merely would rob the Nazis of an obvious advantage and make our attitude of unreserved hostility more consistent and intelligent. It would put us no further into the war than we now are (which is pretty far), but it would make our position stronger and our policy more effective.

Back to Japan

Rear Admiral T. Kondo leaves train at Los Angeles, en route home after serving two and a half years as Japanese naval attaché in London. It is believed he has been called to active duty in the Japanese navy. Regarding war in the Pacific, he said, "I don't know—but I hope not." (Central Press)

What's What At A Glance

000,000,000 can be saved, though possibly not safely.

Some of us oldsters can remember the screech that went up when our national expenditures first reached the $10,000,000 mark annually. It was in Tom Reed's day as the representative speaker. He pooh-poohed the squawk, remarking, "a billion's nothing to holler about. This is a $10,000,000,000 country. Nevertheless a lot of people yelled that it was awful."

Now $10,000,000,000's a mere bab-o-shell, simply as an economy.

What'll the cuts be made in? Secretary Morgenthau suggested less aid to agriculture, the Civilian Conservation Corps, the National Youth Administration and non-defense public work.

The budget bureau likewise hints at a trimming of appropriations for support of the government's numerous civil departments, but there doesn't seem to be much prospect of it. At present they're all expanding.

Now, what will agriculture say if it's retrenched on?

And how about veterans' pensions and benefits?—which the bureau mentions as an item susceptible to a $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 reduction.

Secretary Morgenthau undoubtedly said a mouthful when he warned that individuals as well as the government are going to be pinched at the rate at which we're traveling in the direction of defense and lease-lending.

"We simply can't carry on business and government as usual," he told the congressional investigators, "and still take adequate care of our defense needs. It would be a tragic error to assume that we can continue to expand our defense production on a colossal scale and go on in our usual way, whether as a government—OR AS INDIVIDUALS."

When March Comes!

It's the widespread consensus among income taxpayers that they'll realize the truth of this when they make out their returns next March. They won't need to be told then that they'd better economize. They'll know that they have GOT to.

Of course, by that time, in spite of Price Fixer Leon Henderson, their living costs will be skyrocketing furiously also, as they already have begun going.

Incidentally, besides Uncle Sam's levies, city, county and state taxes are going on the rampage very rapidly. They always follow the federal government's example. And, as Commodore Perry said, "We haven't begun to fight yet."

cepted and sworn in as a soldier in the United States army, he is given a shave and a hair-cut. He is also furnished with an outfit of clothing and shoes, but there are no orders given at Camp Callan concerning his bathing, shaving, hair-cutting, or care of his clothing. The pressing of his uniform, the shining of his shoes, washing his hair and shaving are for the most part left to his own discretion.

Recently, there were a lot of young men inducted into Camp Callan, who had been drafted from the southern states, many of them coming from the mountains of Tennessee. In one contingent of one hundred seventy-eight men, only about twenty-five per cent of them could read or write their own names. Their hair was down around their ears, their faces unshaven and the least said about their clothing, the better. Most of them, the officers found, had never taken a bath. It was a new experience for them, but as I say, they were given a bath, a hair-cut, and, of course, provided with an outfit of clothing and shoes.

The discipline at Camp Callan is entirely too lax. There is not the rigid inspection at guard mount where the officer sees to it that every soldier appears in clean lined, well-brushed clothing, shined shoes, every button in place, shaved face, gun polished and all that. These draftees are, seemingly, not being taught what an old-time sergeant would inculcate—snappy obedience, soldierly bearing and close order drill.

These men are evidently being treated as civilians temporarily in uniform and temporarily away from home. To much leave; too many radios, magazines and newspapers; too much of the wrong kind of recreation, and this treatment keeps the soldiers from being soldiers, by maintaining the illusion of a continuing civilian status.

The men would be happier, better satisfied, more interested in their work and the more ambitious to be good soldiers if they had enough strictly military training and practice to keep them busy, and if their recreation was largely confined to athletics, target shooting, self-created entertainments and similar things available right at the post, with few leaves of absence.

Above everything else, these draftees should have instilled into them soldierly pride and enthusiasm for the service.

Really, the Secretary of War should do something about this and see that the army was just as particular about their soldiers as is the navy about their enlisted men. It is strange that in this country you could get together a company of one hundred seventy-eight young men so ignorant and unschooled as were these southern boys. If service in the military forces of the United States is going to accomplish anything, there must first be accomplished a proper education for such as these.

Rail Strike Threat Seen

Railway Labor Chiefs Gather In Chicago To Discuss Wage Demands

RECOMMENDATIONS OF BOARD MADE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Threat of a nationwide railroad strike—carrying all the implications such a stoppage would have with regard to serious interruption of national defense production—appeared to hang in the balance today as railway labor chiefs gathered in Chicago to discuss their wage demands upon the carriers.

Before the heads of the various railroad unions were the recommendations of President Roosevelt's fact-finding board, which yesterday proposed a scale of increases which were immediately denounced by the big five railroad brotherhoods as "unacceptable."

Today's meeting of the union leaders, headed by A. F. Whitney, president of the Railroad Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen—oldest and largest of the rail unions—was expected to bring concurrence of all the labor chiefs in the rejection of the fact-finding board's proposals.

Such action by the labor chiefs would in fact reaffirm the strike vote already taken by the more than 1,250,000 affected railroad workers. Whatever the result of today's labor conferences, however, no strike would become effective until 30 days have passed. The 30-day "breathing spell" between the fact-finding commission's recommendations to the President and any strike action is provided in the railway labor act.

Board's Findings
The board's findings, in addition to meeting with disapproval of the unions, also were termed "disappointing" by the carriers, who claimed in a statement that even the compromise wage increases advocated by the board represented "a much greater burden than the industry should be asked to assume at this time."

The board recommended that members of the five operating brotherhoods be given a 7½ per cent wage increase rather than the 30 per cent demanded. It suggested that employees represented by the 14 non-operating rail unions be raised nine cents an hour in pay, instead of the 30 cents an hour asked. The board also proposed that the non-operating workers be given one week vacations with pay annually, rather than the two weeks requested.

In regard to employees of the Railway Express agency, the board recommended 7½ cents an hour increase, which also represented a compromise.

For the whole, the board reported to Mr. Roosevelt, the over-all increase of railroad labor costs would amount to about 12½ per cent annually.

The carriers, who had estimated the original union demands would add $900,000,000 annually to their payrolls, said the operating increases under the board's proposals would approximate $260,000,000 to $265,000,000 annually.

The brotherhoods, in their statement rejecting the board's plan, said:

"The board's recommendation as it applies to railway workers represented by the transportation brotherhoods, is a twin sister to the Curley bonus plan which the organizations rejected in mediation and condemned as un-American before the board.

"The recommendation, as we see it, is an engraved invitation for the transportation men to leave the service . . ."

Home-Coming Day Set For Saturday

Special Program Is Arranged For Westminster College

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Westminster-Grove City football game, set for 2 o'clock, will headline the homecoming activities of Westminster college this Saturday, Nov. 8. It will be the 87th annual homecoming for the Lawrence county school.

Activities open at 10 o'clock in the morning with an All-Star versus All-Alumni co-ed hockey game on the Browne Hall field. At 12:30 an alumni luncheon will be served in Hillside men's dormitory.

Following the Titan-Grover grid contest, alumni will meet for open-house festivities in the reading room of McGill Library, with doughnuts and cider for refreshments.

The homecoming dance is scheduled for the gymnasium at 8:30 in the evening, with the awarding of "house-decorations" loving cups at 9:30. Each year, the Argo and Hol-cad, campus annual and newspaper, award silver loving cups to the fraternity or dormitory that has the most attractive outdoor decorations on homecoming day. A similar cup is given for women's dormitories.

On the homecoming cup-award committee are Prof. Harold J. Brennan, art; Dr. Virginia Everett, English; Dr. Albert George, language; Dr. E. A. Metcalf, chemistry, and Prof. Walter Biberich, language.

In addition to the returning Westminster alumni, over 200 members of the Grove City college Boosters club will make the trip to New Wilmington for the game. It will be the 42nd game in 48 years of rivalry between the two district colleges, in a competition that started back in 1893, in the days when the two colleges played two football games annually, one on each home field.

Sevastopol—Goal of Nazi Drive into the Crimea

An ominous new turn for the Soviets is seen in the German drive into the Crimea toward the Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol. A staunch defense of the strategic port by the Russians is expected, for not only does it command the Black Sea, but it also has extensive port facilities and bases many ships of the Red navy. ## Says Discharged Men Agree Army Benefitted Them

Pennsylvanians Recently Completing Service Admit Much Personal Benefit

QUESTIONNAIRE ANSWERED BY 100

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—Pennsylvanians recently discharged from the army almost to a man were agreed that army experience had benefitted them, Dr. William M. Lewis, state selective service director, disclosed after a survey.

Army food is generally good, quarters are adequate and treatment fair, Dr. Lewis was told by selectees released from the army because of exemptions for those over 28 years. Dr. Lewis said he sent the following letter to 100 discharged draftees, whose names were picked at random from a large list:

"I note that you have been honorably discharged from the U. S. Army and I am interested in knowing your reaction to your experience in the armed forces. I should like to say to you that your state and your nation appreciate your services and, as Pennsylvania director of selective service, I want you to know that I will value any comments you may desire to make."

"It would be interesting to know how you fared in the army. How you liked the food and the quarters; whether you think the training was of benefit to you."

"I also would be pleased to know whether you have obtained a job since your discharge—whether it is the same job you left to enter the service or a new one. The answers to these questions and anything else you may care to tell me would be gratefully received."

In their replies, the discharged soldiers indicated living conditions in the army were good, the training interesting, and the experience "something that money never could have bought."

One selectee said he felt that his single year's training "would add five or ten years to any man's life."

There are less than 100 resident hunters' licenses left on hand, and less than 100 non-resident licenses. Mr. Wimer has endeavored to get a supply from Harrisburg but they seem to be out down there. Deer season is not too far away and when the deer hunters get their fowling pieces oiled up the demand for licenses will soon exhaust what are on hand.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

With chilly days people close doors and windows. This is an effective way of keeping the cold out. But it keeps the fresh air out, too. Some are afraid of fresh air and seal themselves indoors. Why sit around in stale air and breathe it over and over? Lungs, throat and nasal passages will welcome fresh air. Especially is this true at night when one is sleeping. Microbes flee at the mere mention of fresh air. The most efficient workers are found where there is fresh air. The body needs fresh air in order to function at its best. Fresh air is free—have a helping of two—you'll like it.

Investigation Of State Treasury Affairs Under Way

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—Apparently not satisfied with the circumstances surrounding the alleged embezzlement of $13,000 from a state fund by a resigned deputy state treasurer, Attorney General Claude T. Reno today was conducting an investigation of the treasury department.

Gov. Arthur H. James suddenly revealed the inquiry was underway late yesterday and predicted new developments "may be even more sensational than the other."

Clifford G. Baugher, Erie, ex-deputy treasurer who confessed the embezzlement, according to Reno has been confined in an Erie hospital recovering from a serious abdominal operation. Warrants charging Baugher with the embezzlement have been drafted by the justice department but are being held in abeyance pending his recovery. Meanwhile, he has denied his guilt. He is now under the surveillance of state motor police.

Governor James said the investigation "may not only affect the present administration of the treasury department but the past as well."

He specifically stated that the new inquiry was launched to determine any further "embezzlement of funds" but declined to reveal whether other officials were involved.

Over Billion Dollars Worth Of Orders Received In First Year

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—Pennsylvania's defense orders during the first year of our national defense effort equaled the grand total of $1,320,492,089, according to an audit recently completed by the state planning board of the Pennsylvania department of commerce.

This figure does not include orders amounting to more than $75,000,000 placed with Pennsylvania contractors for work to be done in other states, or orders amounting to more than $14,000,000 placed with out-of-state contractors doing work in Pennsylvania, nor does it include millions of dollars allocated for non-manufacturing purposes such as defense training programs, defense housing projects and W. P. A. defense projects.

DOES YOUR CAR SHIMMY, AT CERTAIN SPEEDS?

If so, you probably need accurate wheel balancing. It's a long story—we haven't space to tell it here, but wheels must be in static balance, and in running balance, too!

We correct for both, our service is inexpensive and stops shimmy, tire gouging, and wheel tramp. If you've all worn out after a day behind the wheel, if your car "goes into a dance" at certain speeds, you'll find the answer in this service. Drive in today!

Repentance And Faith

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The prodigal son

"Repent ye, and believe in the gospel."—Mark 1:15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 9 is Isaiah 1:10-20; Eze. 18:20-23; Luke 3:1-14; 13: 1-5; 15:11-24; Acts 2:37-39; Rom. 6:1-11, the Golden Text being Mark 1:15. "Repent ye, and believe in the gospel.")

Isaiah, one of the grandest of the ancient prophets of Israel, in the first chapter of the book that bears his name, likens Judah to Sodom and Gomorrah, those wicked cities which had been destroyed centuries before because of their wickedness.

In Jerusalem the people visited the temples, it is true, but even there could be found robbers and murderers. The services of the temples meant nothing to the people. They attended them only to go out to commit more crimes. Their lives were not affected. This was profaning the sacred places. Isaiah, in his opening chapter, tells vividly of the conditions that prevailed there. "Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity," he calls them.

To Isaiah the doom of the country and the city was sealed unless the people repented and quickly turned to righteousness. Sacrifices were indeed made to the Lord, but of what good were they when they were followed again and again by evil deeds?

"To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto Me? saith the Lord. I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and fat of fed beasts, and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of goats."

"Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; the new moons and the sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with it; it is iniquity, even the solemn meetings. . . . Cease to Do Evil."

"Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow."

If they will but repent—"If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land;

"But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land;

"But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

What a sermon! Imagine a man standing up before his congregation in this day and speaking so plainly. Repent and ye shall live; Continue in your wicked ways and ye shall surely perish.

Repentance, what is it? The word means, according to the Greek, a change of mind. Only by changing their minds as to what was desirable in life, by leaving the ways of selfishness, self indulgence, licentiousness and crime, and humbly trying to do right, was it possible for these people to save themselves. And only so is it possible for us to prosper in the sense of being truly and deeply happy and contented.

"No one can bear our sins for us. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son," says Ezekiel.

John the Baptist sounds the same note when, coming from the wilderness when the Lord called him, he called men to repentance, and when the multitude asked him what they should do to be saved, he said they should share what they had with those less fortunate than they. The soldiers should do no violence nor accuse anyone wrongfully, and should be content with their wages.

Story of Prodigal Son
In the 15th chapter of St. Luke, our Lord tells that matchless story of one man's sinning, his repentance and return to his father—the story of the Prodigal Son.

This son, selfishly, and with only his wish to have a good time in mind, and to give him the share that would ordinarily fall to him on his father's death. Then he left his home and went far away, living a riotous life until evil times came upon him and his money was all gone. A famine arose, and he began to be in want—in need even of food; so he hired himself out to tend swine and so hungry and low had he fallen that he felt like eating the coarse food prepared for the pigs.

As he sat there, thinking over his life and condition, he remembered that the servants of his father had enough to eat and to spare, and he made up his mind to go home and humbly beg his father to take him as a servant, as he was not worthy to be a son. But his father saw him coming a long way off, and went to meet him, kissed him, dressed him in fine clothes, and made a feast for him.

If an earthly father would be so loving and forgiving, will not our Heavenly Father be many, many times better, and forgive us when we sin if we truly repent? We may backslide, and not always be able to keep His statutes, but if we have truly repented, and we grieve over our lapses and try again, surely we, too, "shall live."

Clipper Air Service To Australia Planned

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The United States and Australia today are nearing an agreement for establishment of an American Clipper air service direct to that Pacific country.

Advanced plans for establishment of the service are being viewed in Washington as America's answer to the recent action of the Axis powers in persuading Portugal to grant Japan an air base in the Timor Islands, within 450 miles of Australia.

A clipper service already operates as far as New Zealand. Extension of the line to Australia is intended as the final link in the aerial chain connecting the two countries across the Pacific.

The new service will operate via Hawaii, Canton Island, Noumea, and Auckland, New Zealand, Noumea, in New Caledonia, is under control of the Free French.

The proposed clipper service direct to Australia will be over a route which officials in Washington say American long range bombers probably would fly to the Far East in the event of a major war in the Pacific.

While officials acknowledge that extension of the clipper service to Australia is connected with defense strategy plans in the Pacific, they point out that there is far more commercial reason for it than for the air line which Japan is establishing in the Portuguese Timor Islands.

The Japanese move is regarded as purely strategic, whereas a substantial commercial traffic is said to be assured for the American clipper service to Australia.

Australia is known to be considerably disconcerted over the Japanese air line to the Timor Islands. The agreement between Japan and Portugal for establishment of the line came as a complete surprise. Both Washington and London are inclined to believe that Germany persuaded Lisbon to grant the concession to Tokyo.

Sir Keith Murdoch, noted Australian publisher now in this country, brought word that Japanese army and navy officers already have visited the Timor Islands to inspect the air base which will be used by Nippon planes.

Pennsylvanians Move To Country

Census Reveals Gains Were Made During Decade From 1930 To 1940

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Pennsylvanians are moving to the country.

This is the observation of H. R. Cottam, rural sociologist at the Pennsylvania State College, who points out that the country as a place to live appears far more attractive to Pennsylvanians now than it did a decade ago.

"The increase in rural population has been nearly nine times as large as in urban places of 2,500 or more people," Cottam said. "This change is in sharp contrast to the phenomenal doubling of the total population in a little over 30 years prior to 1930 while the rural population remained practically stationary."

This reversal in attitude toward rural living is apparently state-wide, for 61 of Pennsylvania's 67 counties had larger rural populations in 1940 than in 1930, while one-third of the counties had smaller urban populations.
